Introduction

The second edition of the ASOC reflects a substantial review of all facets of the classification. The first edition of the classification was released in 1997 and there have been significant legislative changes at state and territory level since the first edition was released. A second edition of the classification was released in order to maintain its relevance for crime and justice agencies and to enable data providers to align local legal codes to the national ASOC framework.

The third edition of ANZSOC 2011 does not incorporate any further changes to the content or structure beyond those included in the second edition of ASOC.

This appendix lists all the changes that have been made at the division, subdivision and group level for the revised edition of ASOC.

ASOC Divisions

The second edition of ASOC is separated into 16 divisions, reflecting the same structure as the first edition. Four divisions have undergone name changes.

- 5 Division 05, previously titled 'Abduction and related offences' has been renamed 'Abduction, harassment and other offences against the person' to accommodate a new subdivision which incorporates more offences against the person which were previously in Division 16.
- 9 Division 09, previously titled 'Deception and related offences' has been renamed 'Fraud, deception and related offences' to more clearly reflect the subdivisions and groups within the division.
- 11 Division 11, previously titled 'Weapons and explosives offences' has been renamed 'Prohibited and regulated weapons and explosive offences' to better reflect that only prohibited or regulated weapons are counted in this division.
- 14 Division 14, previously titled 'Road traffic and Motor vehicle regulatory offences' has been renamed 'Traffic and vehicle regulatory offences' to incorporate non-road vehicles, such as boats and aircrafts, and non-motor vehicles.

ASOC Subdivisions

The second edition of ASOC includes 49 subdivisions, three more than the first edition.

- 21 Subdivision 021 has been disaggregated to include assault resulting in serious injury, assault not resulting in serious injury, and common assault.
- 53 Subdivision 053 has been created to include 'Harassment and private nuisance' and 'Threatening behaviour', which were previously located in Division 16.
- 91 Subdivision 091, previously titled 'Fraud, forgery or false financial instrument' is now a new subdivision, titled 'Obtain benefit by deception'.
- 92 Subdivision 092, previously titled 'Counterfeiting currency and related offences' is now titled 'Forgery and counterfeiting'.
- 93 Subdivision 093, previously titled 'Dishonest conversion' is now titled 'Deceptive business/government practices'.
- 99 Subdivision 099, previously titled 'Other deception offences' is now titled 'Other fraud and deception offences'.
- 131 Subdivision 131 has been separated depending on whether offences are disorderly or offensive. Subdivision 131 retains its title of 'Disorderly conduct', while Subdivision 133 has been created and is titled 'Offensive conduct'.
- 151 Subdivision 151 has been separated into 3 subdivisions to incorporate the addition of more breaches of orders. Subdivision 151 now reflects all custodial order breaches, and is now titled 'Breach of custodial order offences'.
- 152 Subdivision 152 includes all breaches of community-based orders, and is now titled 'Breach of community-based order'.
- 153 Subdivision 153 includes all breaches of violence and non-violence orders, and is now titled 'Breach of violence and non-violence orders'.
- 155 This subdivision has been created in order to relocate what was previously Subdivision 153 'Offences against government security'. Subdivision 155 now includes all groups which resided in Subdivision 153 in the first edition.
- 156 Subdivision 156 is a new subdivision, titled 'Offences against justice procedures'. This subdivision has moved from 152 to 156 in order to keep the three subdivisions relating to breaches of orders together.
